

Choice

Collaboration

Competition?

End of Life Care

Conference 2009

Bournemouth University

Saturday 16 May 2009

A Dorset wide conference

Chaired by: Mr Robert Talbot MS FRCS

Medical Director, Poole Hospital NHS Foundation Trust

This conference will consider some of the current issues in palliative and end of life care at a local and national level, but will concentrate on the issues and challenges that come from patient choice:

- Managing the expectations of patients and their families.
- The continuing and developing need for integrated collaboration between all providers of care.
- Will patient choice lead to competition between sectors?

Delegate fee : £50 per person

(£40 if booking form and fee received by Friday 17 April 2009)

For further information please look at the Lewis-Manning Hospice web site:
www.lewis-manning.co.uk or telephone Selena Northcott at Lewis-Manning Hospice on 01202 708470.

This conference will be of interest to anyone working or interested in palliative and end of life care issues. This could include social workers, nursing home staff, voluntary sector providers, hospice professionals, clinical nurse specialists, academics, and all local health care professionals.